BEEFY PUMPKIN GHOULASH

A special Halloween recipe brought to you by:

www.tootsweet4two.com

As witches, vampires, ghosts and goblins gather on Halloween night
Here's a kid-friendly dinner recipe that's perfect at first bite:

One yellow onion to keep witches away
Five cloves of garlic to keep vampires at bay.
Ground beef to make a werewolf drool
Plus pumpkin that escaped the carver's tool.
Fire roasted red tomatoes left behind by a dancing devil
Don't forget to add kidney beans to the cauldron or kettle!
Skeletons rubbing elbows with macaroni
Forget about accidentally adding phony baloney rigatoni!
A pinch of salt, a dash of pepper
Douse with water and at the last minute, cheddar:
Black olives for eyes and a red onion smile
Topped with celery leaves and voila', a hair style!
Beefy Pumpkin Ghoulash, a hearty harvest delight
Is just what the Bogeyman ordered on Halloween night!